

5 Tips for Heifer Exhibitors

1. Remember to check ear tattoos PRIOR to leaving home!
 - a. If you can't read them, show officials can't read them either. It's always better to be safe than sorry.
 - b. If you realize the tattoo has faded once you have arrived at the show, the supervising CEA/AST should be notified immediately to get the animal a new tattoo.
2. Exhibitors should be aware of where the tattoo is located to help show officials streamline the tattoo verification process after the animal has been placed.
3. Please bring your original registration papers. The registration papers presented at the show ring should match the papers that were submitted at the time of validation.
4. While we're talking about registration papers... place them in your show harness so you don't forget them during the hustle and bustle of show day! All exhibitors must bring their registration papers with them to the show arena.
5. If you are substituting a heifer, the heifer must be state validated in order to be eligible to show.
